Triware Network Systems Donates Network Services to Non-Profit Family Resource Center
Setting up Microsoft Small Business Server & Cisco Network

SANTA CLARA, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May 22, 2006--

Rio Vista CARE, Inc. Enhances Productivity With New Microsoft Exchange Email Server & Cisco Wireless Network Set up and Maintained by Triware Network Systems

Triware Network Systems, a leading Information Technology network service and support provider, today announced its donation of network services to Rio Vista CARE, Inc., a counseling and family resource center based in Rio Vista, California. The center, which specializes in providing mental health and substance abuse treatment to children and families of the Rio Vista community, has enhanced productivity with a new Microsoft Exchange email server and Cisco wireless network service set up and maintained by Triware Network systems free of charge. Triware handled the set up of the company's new server with firewall protection, a new email server and a wireless network, all with DSL broadband connections. In addition to setting up the company's new system, Triware has committed to providing the center with ongoing maintenance services using Triware's 7x24 Service and Support Operation Center, which provides Rio Vista CARE with advanced pro-active remote monitoring and management service.

"At Triware Network Systems we believe in supporting the community and each year we donate a percentage of our profits to local and national non-profit organizations," said Benson Yeung, senior partner for Triware Network Systems, L.L.C. "Rio Vista CARE provides an essential service to its community and we are delighted to be able to offer our expertise to allow them to maintain the level of service required to fill the needs within their community. This is really a joint effort by Microsoft, Cisco Systems, Symantec, Veritas and us. Without the product donations from all these IT leading providers we alone would not be able to make all the setup possible."

"We appreciate Triware's donation of network services which has enhanced our ability to meet our community's needs," stated Araminta Blackwelder, executive director of Rio Vista CARE. "The hardware, software and service contributions have allowed our staff to more effectively and efficiently support our community."

Founded in 1985, Rio Vista CARE is a community-based organization committed to promoting healthy and productive lifestyles for youth, adults and families of the Sacramento Delta area. Professional counselors provide individual and family counseling, as well as alcohol and drug abuse prevention services to the local schools and community. Over the last 21 years they have served over 6200 youth and families. For more information about Rio Vista CARE, contact them at 707-374-5243.
